Rules of Legality for Publishing

For purposes of simplification, feminine pronouns are used in this text to indicate both men and women.

Important: The Active Member, by signing the Responsibility Document, agrees to abide by these Rules of Legality for Publishing.

1. Authorization of discharge in cases of representation of persons

I understand that it is my responsibility as an artist to obtain authorization from all persons appearing in photographs or represented in paintings, drawings, videos, recordings, etc. to be published, and I certify that I have obtained all the necessary authorizations regarding works submitted to the Re-Visionary Art Collective. I release, discharge, and if necessary, indemnify the Collective from any liability in connection with any potential litigation in connection with my works.

2. Copyright

2.1 I confirm that no one other than me detains any rights over the works that I present to the Collective, including appearance in other publications or in other countries (e.g. photographs of your works, quotations or musical pieces used in your works)

2.2 The artist agrees to provide only original works of her production, or works which she has obtained permission to use.

2.3 I am aware that, as all works are protected by law on copyright and related rights, any plagiarism is punishable by criminal and civil penalties.
